

Run 2337- AGPU

Couldn't organise a piss up in a brewery!!!

Wrong again..F*nut and friends really pulled it off.

The Brews Brothers venue although a little "rustic" was a perfect location for the BH3 gathering. It was the AGPU, the annual get-together that has hashmen coming out of the woodwork to be in attendance. GM had been busy organising the beer brew weeks ago so that he had enough brew on hand to feed the hungry seagulls. One small hiccup was the fact that GM had forgotten to nominate a hare to set a run. Naturally that was the fault of the Trailmaster!!. I had had a big day up to that point. Disagreement with my Manager at 9am burying my family friend at 11am and then informed I was live hare at 6pm.

A mad scrounge in my car boot located some mouldy gyprock and loo paper. Where the f*ck to run the trail??.. just keep going left should do!...who gives a f*ck it is AGPU. The odd 360check and another leftie here and what the f*ck?? Coorparoo Station...how did I get here?? A lot of urgent back-tracking to cross out chalk arrows and a mad rush to stay ahead of the pack. Was that OnOn I heard just behind me? A last minute scramble to get home before the pack when..too late here comes Grewsome leading the runners/shortcutters. Who gives a f*ck it is AGPU!!

Still sweating I arrived at the venue to find all the walkers/party animals in full swing enjoying GMs choice in beers. One even had a chili floating in the bottle!! GMs little helpers like Irish, VD, Anchovy, Wingnut, Dimprick and Chardarse ( please forgive the absence of names of other volunteers) made sure the drink and food flowed. Mind you a hostess and a roll of Tinkerbell's sticky tape made difficult Snappy's access to the food, But you get that when you play procurer! He got other rewards during the night and flaunted it!

I am certain a list of BH3 annual award winners can be published in good time..when we get hold of the special branch copy of the ex-GMs phone log. I can tell you that some of the new committee names that stick in my mind are Craft, Chardarse, Royal Screw, Tweedy, Optus, Shitbags, Layup, VD, Irish Joke, Octapussy, Divot, Bugs, Tinkerbell, Radar (when he is in town) and with great pride XXXX.

I predict an unpredictable year.
