Run No2418
Swedish run
Hares: Divot and Pushup
Pineapple Hotel
'Gabba

Arrived at the venue on a coolish night to find not too much has changed during my recent absence o/s. No hares in sight and the usual suspects, Tinkerbell and Co. up to no good.

Divot had secured his pushbike to the temporary fencing adjacent to the run start and when the lads were unable to remove it decided it would be easier to rotate the entire fence panel and lock the bike inside the construction site. Good one guys!!

After the introduction of visitors flim flam man from Subic Bay and Meatlovers from Northside hash the pack headed off.

Tonights report will focus on the walkers as the GM who, in his joy to be back in the fold neglected to nominate a runner to do the report.

The trail led across Main St. then up Walmsley St. to River Tce. where Luftwaffe tried to send the pack in the wrong direction. The trail went across River Tce., down the steps and along Lower River Tce. to Vulture St.

Then on on through the Mater Hospital and South East Busway to Clarence Corner where Tinkerbell and Klinging decided it would be fun to play russian roulette with vehicles at the traffic lights. Guys, red means stop green means go !!!!!!!

After the responsible members of the pack safely negotiated the intersection it was on on up Annerley Rd. to Heaslop St., right into Merton Rd., left into Longwood St., left again into Fleurs St., another right turn into Hawthorne St. down to Ipswich Rd.

At this point Chardarse led a small group of shortcutters straight home while the rest of the pack stayed on trail turning right into Vulture St., left into Duke St. and on home to Raymond Park.

After retrieving Divot`s bike from the temporary fencing the circle started with a down down for our visitors Flim Flam Man and Meatlovers.

Iceings were bestowed upon a number of hashmen including Vaso, Miles O`toole, Radar and Luftwaffe for various offences.

The Monk attempted to ice Layup for some trivial offence and was threatened he would be shot.

At this point the 3 minute attention span of hashmen had been exceeded and the cold weather forced the group to adjourn to the hotel. In the confusion not sure who got SOTW but could have been Miles.

Walk : 9/10 well set and good length

On On : 4/10 too long and lost the group

Food: 6/10 cold beer and value pizzas. service would have been better if venue had been notified we were coming.
