

Run 2424
1st August 2016
Horse's Birthday Run
Venue: Norths Devils Leagues Club, Nundah.
Hares: Handjob, Anchovy and Minder

36 Hashmen turned up for this run from a familiar venue, of which there were 12 runners and the rest walkers or drinkers.

JC wasn't running as he'd had an operation to remove a golf marker from his heel, after standing on it while sleep walking in his garage in the dark. Chinese Midget Cuffs turned up in his new wheels rather than his push bike, and Meat Lovers from Thirsty Hash joined us again as he lived not far away from the venue.

The run took off South, through the adjacent soccer fields and past the North Brisbane Lapidary Club, which shone like a jewel in the night, as did Scruffy's SOTW vest which stood out like a beacon in the torchlight and was easy to follow. The trail eventually hit Nudgee Road and shot off south to a CB over the bridge across Kedron Brook.

Turning to run north along Nudgee Road Tinkerbelle and Grewsome were in the van, before heading left into Vernon, then into Amelia, before a checkback sent us around Nellie and Killeen to the park behind Northgate State School, we then briefly flirted with the school grounds then back out onto Nudgee Road still heading north. Next into a right of way before hitting Cambage Rd and again onto the park behind the school before traversing Elwyn and meandering via Melton and Ridge to Northgate Railway station. We found the trail and avoided a CB with the help of some local train travellers. When running up the ramp and through the railway station some officious railway employee used the public address system to order us to stop running. Needless to say we ignored the dickhead and left Little Arse Play and Multiple Choice who were bringing up the rear to face the consequences.

The trail continued on it's big loop around the streets of Northgate and Nundah and saw us lose Pushup and Bugs who saw the lights of Bishop Park in the distance and chose to take a more direct route back, like moths to a flame. The rest of us had an involuntary regroup outside a liquor warehouse (which was closed) while Tinkerbelle did the right thing and went back looking for the back runners.

Then it was on through the Nundah shops, and on home via Buckland, Melton Road, and Kundle Street and through Bishop park to the circle. During the circle BFC turned up, apparently he'd arrived late and ran the whole trail, finishing not far behind the pack.

Circle was good, and the food even better at $5 for a roast meal.
