

Run Report Paddo Hotel –Hares Total Waste of Time, Moretein

On arrival at the carpark, witnessed the usual smug looking hares, WOT and Moretein , looking down on the assembled bunch from the pub balcony with schooners of 150 lashes- they looked a bit rooted-hard to be not rooted when setting a run around Paddington. Big rollup, including a visit from Shorttime, long ago Brisbane Hashman. Usual explanation from hares that it was a flat run and that they only ran through valleys. “ Buuullshit, Buuulshit , sounds like Bullshit to me, to me!” sang Tinkerbell.

We were off up Latrobe Terrace and then down to the right to the first valley. The trail wound its way through tight Paddo streets and eventually up to Waterworks Road where it crossed over , down a street and then a weird loop back to stairs . The trail headed out through the Kelvin Grove campus, some eye candy but not a lot of quality, Flim Flam man was leading the pack at this stage , flowed by Screw, Optus, Tinker and Craft. Eventually, we headed past Ordinary’s old residence and a well earned drink stop, where Wasta was in charge of supplying rumbos to the sweaty multitude. “You are two thirds of the way through the run!” says Wasta as we ventured off-back down the ICB and over the footbridge to Brisbane Grammar School—the front runners picked up the pace, including Splatt, Optus & Tinker as we could smell the beer at the end. Down Petrie Bight and to the right to the footbridge for the sprint home. All in all, a good run-no bush at all, no grass-just bitumen, which made it pretty quick.

Circle was boisterous-Snappy nominated for SOTW for getting Arseplay to shout cocktails for 3 young women, when it was Snappy's idea, sitting at their table in some dive in the Valley. SOTW shirt was immediately passed over from Vaso to Snappy without further nominations as no one could beat that! Snap also had new shoes which he vehemently protested about saying they were not new shoes-it fell on deaf ears! A downdown followed.

Paddo food good and quick service from the button popping wenches serving –anyone notice the uniforms supplied were all one size too small.

Run-8

Circle 8

Onon 8

JC