

Run 2510

Prince of Wales Hotel Nundah

Hares: Vaso and Anchovy

We had a few weeks warning of the Farcup planned by Vaso. Even during the pub crawl to Beenleigh he was going on about how over rated the runners were and that walkers deserved more attention... blah blah.

I have noticed lately with mature males that with the diminishing of grey matter and brain space being replaced with white matter (or stale air), there is a shift from a sympathetic outlook to and inner self (selfish) review. Maybe these are the symptoms of the soul searching for the missing grey matter!

Well Vaso's attempt to rewrite the run setting rules ticked that box.

Now I know we live in a democracy and the majority rule for the benefit of the minority, but when did Hash become a democracy? Just because the walkers outnumber the runners 3:1 does that mean we throw out the rule book and ignore the runners?

Great care and attention was expressed by Vaso during the pre-amble that walkers should bring a torch, mind the wet spots, don't go on the run trail and the runners instruction was DILLIGAF.

Vaso unloaded the run responsibility onto co-hare Anchovy.

Now maybe Anchovy was echoing his masters voice, or was trying a new run setting plan but the A to B to A (6km) or A to B to wherever (? km) choice was certainly different for BH3. It is a bit of Skinnychino style where runners head off into the wild blue and only those with a GPS make it home on time.

The two visitors from PNG hash must have wondered WTF?

Well the preservation of walkers plan worked because they arrived back at the pub without raising sweat. Tightnut (with GPS), JC and Tinkerbelle took the mystery trail (7+ km) and the confused Scruffy, Peewee and XXXX took option A route which was almost devoid of checks but peppered with pea-brained performance cyclists who 'own the road'. Pushup claims he did this trail but has no witnesses to support this.

Circle

Reminder to pay fees before the 2500 run party by Acting GM Royal Screw.

Snappy took over the proceedings from Monk Pushup to whinge about his missing run report being a racist attack. He got the SOTW shirt for another week to contemplate a more politically correct way to approach the pack.

OnOn

Pub food looked good and the waiter even supplied the Malaysian visitor with a bowl of chili sauce for his fish and chips. ordered lambs fry and was last to be served.

Run 5/10

OnOn 5/10 beer was cold

Food 7/10
