

Run 2584 "SPRING HAS SPRUNG" 2/9/2019

Venue: JUNCTION HOTEL ANNERLEY

HARES: PEEWEE INSPECTOR REX/ROMPER

A smallish pack gathered in the car park of the Junction Hotel, a familiar hash venue. Good to see Monty back on his feet after his recent travails at the hands of his motorcycle, the bitumen, and subsequently, the judiciary. Someone said he (Monty) had got his licence back.....! Good to see Craft in person, other than through his endless supply of trivia . Miles O'Toole in good spirits, greatly improved following acupuncture by an elderly Chinaman wearing only one thong. The acupuncture worked for whatever complaint Miles was having treated (? serial whingeing) , but the Chinaman's command of English did not extend to Miles' request for the procedure to be put through under Medicare, the only word the Chinaman seemed to understand was " cash". Funny that. Fingers looked well after his recent cycling exploits. Social media is a wonderful thing: I saw x-ray images of Finger's fractured collarbone on Facebook within minutes of the unhappy event. As the walkers and runners headed off on the well marked trail, memories of an earlier run at this location came back, when none other than Push Up took the pack "off road" down a steep and overgrown path behind the houses in Venner Road. A local home owner did not appear to think this was public access and a spirited "dialogue" followed. Not this time.

The pack headed off west and in no time, I found myself limping along with Barebum, and enjoyed pleasant conversation, while employing skillful shortcutting in a manner mastered over the years by a Hawaiian , well known to us all. With the pack heading even further west, common sense dictated that a loop home was in order. I'm told the run was good, but poor Bugs somehow had a unfavourable encounter with a gate.

F..knot lead the Hash anthem at the circle, and there were some incomprehensible charges leading to various icings , including Monty who was gallantly assisted on and off the ice , and Luftwaffe, who amazingly licked the ice. Don't worry Lufty, there are new and powerful antibiotics to treat E.coli infections these days. Multiple Choice's charges against Luftwaffe made even less sense than Meatiwhore's rambling assessment of the run. I think Lufty got SOTW again.

Impression: Well set run and walk. 8.5 out of 10

Circle: 6 out of 10

Food: Probably quite good (copyright of a former art teacher at school .)
