40 Hashmen assembled for a 4.5-5km run from the Stones Corner hotel. The run was on paths, running track returned following a bus route. I walked with Barebum following the pack. The run was well marked and was flat except for the Stones Corner Hill. Barebum and I thought we were last but were delighted to pass Little Arse Play on the way back to the ON ON making him the last man in.

Twin Tub delivered a fine Remembrance Day sermon in honour of the memory of the fine service men and women who risked their lives for our freedom.

The circle caught the usual reprobates; someone was put on the ice but I can't remember who or for what reason. It must have been Radar Lufty or Multiple Choice because they sit on the ice every week. I was put (unfairly) on the ice for doing a walk on South Australia's, Kangaroo island with my wife and four not wives, and for being the village idiot. Irish became "Shit of the Week" (again) for doing a tiling job at home which totally collapsed before the adhesive had set.

The pack then moved to the Stones Corner Hotel for the $4.50 Schooners of XXXX as well as the selection of $15 Parmies.
