

RUN: 2641 - No Kids No Food No free beer Run

VENUE: Norths Devils Leagues Club, Nunda

HARES: Vaso, Shitbags & Minder

A cast of thousands assembled in the Northern end of the Norths Devils Leagues Club carpark as per Vaso's email those who were Carking it were doing so at the southern end of the carpark. TRex and sons from PNG were guests.

The three Hares with over 2500 runs to their names started bemoaning the fact that they have never got Run of the Year and have decided to change the format after only 40 years.

Despite the fact that the BOM recorded only 1.2mm at 10pm on Sunday night they claimed that the rain had washed away their chalk. The scribe notes that the two previous weeks Hares managed to chalk the trail between torrential deluges. However, they did come prepared with runners and a walkers trails printed on run sheets, so extra points for preplanning.

No need to describe the trail as the run sheets are attached below. This was the second week TinkerBell lead the runners in with a son of a Hashmen at his side. Someone should have warned TRex about Multiple Choice's sense of direction as they were last to arrive.

Meatiwhore went to investigate the car in the middle of the oval who was blinding the circle with their headlights, only to find ten toes up and ten toes down and a little white ass ...well you know it goes. The scribe was reliably informed that when dogging you either must wind the windows down or keep the engine running and the aircon on to stop the everything fogging up. Clearly this vehicle had automatic driving lights.

Anyway, after the GM spoke a mini-Santa appeared in the circle, Spermwhale career is not in jeopardy. I had trouble hearing the monk because of the ambient noise FNut said that Snappy was crapping on and sending people to sleep. Twin Tub the co-monk said that snappy was riveted.

I did hear about Boxa being too pissed after last weeks' memorial run to walk home, so Pushup, as always, the gracious host, handed him his car keys and directed him out of the driveway.

The gathered masses likened the three Hares to the three stooges, I sure as hell couldn't tell them apart.

Compared to the last two runs offering free prawns and beer and free fillet steak, red wine and beer, the chances for run of the year this year is not looking good.
