

Run No. 2643, 4 January 2021

Hares: CRAFT and Royal Screw, "Fuck Off 2020 Run"

Venue: Stones Corner.

The Brisbane hashmen arrived at the carpark under the Stones Corner Bus Station for the first run of 2021. I guess that is why the Hares, CRAFT and Royal Screw chose to call it the "Fuck Off 2020 Run". It was a good size crowd with a few ring-ins, like Cream Puff and Mu. Not to mention the usual riffraff.

The pre-run briefing was called and the hares provided a very short summary of the run set on chalk and flour with runners and walkers splits. They confirmed that dinner was arranged for the Stones Corner Hotel but entry was by QR code only. Apparently a number of venues no longer accepted paper sign-in due to the large number patrons called Donald Duck or Mickey Mouse. Monty, Vaso and the other elder hashmen when straight to the pub. Monty was wearing the Brisbane hash shirt from 25 Years of Hashing and it looks pretty good. But Monty made it look good, according to Monty. Apparently the emblem including the two running banana men was originally designed by Barebum.

The hares waved in a vague manner and said On On that way but Tinkerbell found trail and called the pack on. As the runners and walkers headed past the library and across Logan Road I joined the dog walker subgroup with my small fur ball Jethro. We did get far before the entertainment began! Apparently, Jethro is a chick magnet and we were stopped frequently by young women wanted to pet the pooch. Thoughts of trail disappeared quickly and were replaced by visions of young women's breasts as they bent down to pat the puppy! After about 30 min of tits I joined Snappy Tom sitting on a log fence. Snappy was resting his back. Apparently he suffers from sciatica and not shagger's back.

Back at the circle the most of the runners retuned along with the walkers and the walking dead. No sign of Little Arseplay or Mu. Boxer explained that the couple sitting in a car beside his had been engaged in a bit of hanky panky. He said that when they saw him return the newspaper on the blokes lap was dancing to the tune of a BJ. Monk Snappy charged a number of miscreants including the scribe from the previous Monday, Pool Puller. Little Arseplay was charged in absentia for some heinous crime, but Shit of The Week when to Bugs, although I've received advice as follows:

"Verbal, it should have been Irish! Brengun had it on for a while but I think it went to Bugs. Can't remember his crime."

The circle was almost over when LA and Mu finally returned from the run.

The circle progressed to announcements, including the Committee Run on 11 Jan at Purtell Park home of Wests Rugby League. Fourex said that Purtell Park has two carparks, a small one off Carwoola Street and larger one from Lorward Street. Brengun mentioned the RRR Lunch on 21 January, Radar discussed the Mud run on 18 of January, the GM explained that the 50 Years of hashing on 25 January would not include the substantial festivities. The celebrations are to be held over for a more appropriate time.

The pack retired to the pub for beers and dinner.

On On Verbal Diarrhoea.
