

Brisbane Hash run report
Ides of March Run – 15 March 2021.

Hare Fingers.

Once again the weather boys had predicted Noah's Ark like predictions for this the “Ides Of March” Run / walk. The damp conditions didn't seem to deter these aging warriors ,all intent on a Monday night catch up .Now that the footy season has started, more banter regarding the Broncos Vs Qld Reds seasons performances. Fingers had used his head and had clearly marked instructions on where the trail would go . The Monk, Snappy Tom had ceased the rain from tumbling down and conditions were perfect. A handful of runners, including Tinkerbell, Craft, Pee Wee and Inspector Rex zoomed of in to the Annerley suburbia. Down a few hills, under some railway lines, some right hand turns a left hand turns, mixed up with some good hills going up and through The hockey fields .

The trail continued past the Fairfield Shopping centre. At this stage the walkers had all scattered, leaving a small bunch crossing over the railway station at Fairfield .It was here that Dolebludger noticed Dudley street..His name sake . Dudley Street also has good incline where I a few w of the lads were huffing and puffing up the hill, all knowing that home was over the crest .The GM Verbal D certainly strode the hill out. The cycling has lifted his aerobic capacity big time . A well earned cleaning ale was well earned .A short walk but ok It was noted that The fair weather Fnut doesn't seem to be at hash if the BOM indicates some moisture will be present ..”No arrows on the Tarmac” “No mud on the shoes. “

Who knew. Is this new age hashing?

The GM Verbal D gathered the flock and mentioned that the Leech 's funeral was well supported by Brisbane hash. Twin tub ,did his Usual off the cuff joke .Drift wood gave a rousing rendition of the run walk that went on and on..

Then the Fun Began .

Monk Snappy went o n a Icing spree. First on the Ice was Radar..charged for being disrespectful. Dole Bludger, probably hanging around with Harriett's . Gruesome. Charged for being pissed on bike ride Bare bum was charged for complaining about Vaso's " Not up to standard hot dogs etc.:" He bought along his own private Pepper Jack and couldn't find a $ 2.00 wine to compliment the hot dogs .So he went without a wine . Who knew Hash men were wine snobs. A bit like Dimprick telling me that he won't drink "Coopers Green beer" (Crap,) out of a can at bike hash recently.

Bare bum won Shit of the week tee but didn't think the monkey was a good look in Clayfield .
Clever trail ,Fingers and now we will have hashers writing their names all over the place via Strava

Food was good
